By: Yasmine Elamin, p.5

Similarities

-Characters:

In both the Hunger Games book and movie, Katniss Everdeen is portrayed as a resourceful and self-sacrificing protagonist, whose primary motivation is to protect her loved ones. Similarly, characters like Peeta Mellark and Gale Hawthorne remain loyal to Katniss.

-Setting:

In both the Hunger Games book and movie, the movie and book are set in Panem, or District twelve. The Hunger Games arena was also similar, both were dangerous, filled with wild animals and traps.

-The games

The game structure is the same in both the book and the movie, so is the arena and opening ceremony.

Similarities

-Themes:

In both the book and the movie, the Capitol has full control over the districts, who are kept in a state of poverty and oppression. Also in both the book and the movie they use the Hunger Games as a tool of control. The Capitol's media control was the same format in the book and the movie.

-Ending:

In both the movie and book, they allow two victors from the same district.

Differences

-Characters:

In the book, Katniss's "Girl On Fire" outfit was more so used for her public image. In the movie though, the fire affect is literal.

Perspective:

In the book, Katniss is the one who is telling the story, while in the movie they convey things by storytelling.
