Similarities

- In the book and the movie Katniss is described as a resourceful daughter who is protective of her family and good at hunting.
- Katniss struggles with how she feels towards Peeta in the book and movie.
- In the book and movie the games are made for the purpose that the districts entertain and serve for the Capitol.

Similarities

- In both the book and movie, the mockingjay represents hope and Katniss takes it with her to the arena
- Both, the movie and the book are dystopian themed
- In both the book and the movie the main themes are survival, oppression, and rebellion

Differences

- In the book they describe Katniss as a young woman with dark hair, olive-toned skin, and gray eyes however in the movie she has light hair and colored eyes.
- In the book the story is told from Katniss's perspective
- In the movie they claim that Effie Trinket always says "happy hunger games, and may the odds be ever in your favor" and Katniss and Gale make fun of her for it however in the movie Effie Trinket doesn't say that she says "now is the time for the titular hunger games, the teenage games about fighting. Get on out there and do it up big time baby."
- In the book we hear Katniss's thoughts, emotions, and feelings a lot however in the movie not so much

Differences

- At the end of the book Katniss thinks about her returning to district 12 and she worries and stresses and doesn't know about what to do with her feelings towards gale and peeta however in the movie Katniss and Peeta return to district 12 together.
- Media Manipulation is strongly used as the book is more violent and bloody then the movie.
